Jefferson High School was erected in 1873 and has weathered the gales for 72 years. As all things must come to an end, the 1944-45 school session is Jefferson's last year. Therefore we, the students of the senior class, appreciatively dedicate our year book to the memory of old - - - Jefferson High.

A Monument to Learning

As we gaze upon this building
 There comes a feeling of pride,
 And a sudden desire for knowledge
 Starts welling up inside.
 For deep in the heart of every youth
 Is always found a yearning,
 Of some sure way in which they might
 Fulfill their thirst for learning.

Today mankind is protecting
 Its children's future hope,
 By broadening their perspective
 That with life they may cope.
 And we will find this protection
 In this monument to knowledge,
 Erected for the purpose
 Of preparing us for college.

CLASS PROPHECY

This is your air wave Fresso gas reporter, telling you to take care, save wear on that new 1956 rocket-car. Drop in to any one of our convenient roof-top stations for a complete check-up. *****

And here is a special bulletin—Please clear the beam to Mars, make way. Dr. Denison is urgently needed there to perform an operation on Superman himself. Please clear the beam to Mars. *****

I will switch you now to Mistleforest where Miss Camcy Camel-lia, star of "How High is High" is awarding the Florence Nightingale Medallion for conspicuous bravery during the Peruvian earthquake to those gifts to humanity, Margie Ward, Jane Nearman, Mildred Le Sage and Betty Piggott. During the intermission you will hear the "Waltz Song" from "Carmen" as sung by Madame Heinbuch, planet-famed soprano. Your next half-hour is sponsored by the firm of Neal and Parrott, Engineers Extraordinary, sensations of the generation. *****

Switch on your television screen, now, folks, then stand by for the show.

Good evening, fellow Americans, this is yours truly, David Young telling you that at the next signal it will be 19:30, Bluen watch time. *****

Folks, next time you hop over the country, drop down and visit the new Robinson process, glassed-in Safeways. Now hear a message from C. G. Marsters, our unexcelled general manager. "Try our new fly-in service. Have your helio-car washed, greased and tuned up while waiting for the electro belt to deliver your spinach, your steak, your Wheaties, or your corned beef and cabbage in the new dehydrated, deflated pink pills for pale people. *****"

This is head nurse Anne Ballard bringing you the Inventor's Hour. We give you the latest discoveries from day to day. The great educator, Miss Printz, will demonstrate our revolutionary system for easy, painless learning. The humorous Dr. Reeve, who wrote "One Thousand Easy Jokes for Inopportune Occasions", will start the exhibition by inoculating one of Miss Printz's students with Latin. *****

Sorry to interrupt, folks, but here is another urgent bulletin. Special Pedictrician Taske is requested to come immediately to Tsai-Ling General Hospital to assist Doctor Thompson....Now back to the Inventor's Hour.

Next, the next to the latest thing in typewriters. The Kipps and Jones Ribbonless, key-stickless, Marginless. Demonstrators will be those international experts, secretary superior to the World Council, Loy and Walker.

Flash! The high-minded battle of the sexes is over. Yes, a tie it was. .. The Kauffmann Cloud-Skitter and the Merrell Time-Splitter just came in. Miss Kauffman has now stepped out. She looks very chic. too, in her snazzy Dhein-designed dreamland duds. That great star of sports, "Fireball" Ungerer has just himself stepped out of his helio-car. He shakes hands with Merrell and Kauffmann, he claps Merrell on the back! they seem to be great friends from a long way back. And more congratulators. Coming on the screen from the left is Miss Norman. decorator divine, who did the interior of the studio to which in a moment you will be returned. Next to her is Miss Walker, whose theories on child rearing and child care have endeared her to all of us.

Back to that Norman studio.

I'm afraid you've missed most of the Inventor's Hour, folks. but we'll be seeing you tomorrow with the latest.

Announcers: E. G. T.

CLASS WILL

We, the highly intelligent and most dignified class of Jefferson High School, being sick and weak of too much studying but as yet of sound and disposing mind, do hereby make this the Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1945.

To the following, we will, bequeath, and donate all our earthly possessions:

1. To the school we give and bequeath the deep sorrow and despair caused by our departure.
2. To the Juniors we leave our favorite homeroom teacher, Mrs. Rullman.
3. To the Sophomores we give the privilege of skipping Physical Education.
4. To the Freshmen we bequeath the destiny of becoming Seniors.

The following trifling bequests we make with apologies:

1. David Young's dark hair to Audrey Hall.
2. Betty Piggott's brains to Frank Towsey.
3. To Don Baldwin, John Dennison's voice.
4. To Jeanette VanderKaden and Clarence Kipps, the friendliness of the inseparable pair, John Neal and Billy Parrott.
5. To Betty Root, Elayne's acting ability.
6. To Christine Eppard, Joy Reeve's indigestible comments at lunchtime.
7. To Iris Arrants, Anne Ballard's stately walk.
8. To Roger Taynton Mary Walker's ears.
9. To Margaret Ribble, Peggy Tasker's role of Queenie.
10. To Max Geddes, Ray's way with the women.
11. To the whole faculty, Jane Nearman's kind disposition.
12. To the whole school, Mildred LeSage wills her supply of gum.
13. To Jim Powell, Shirley Dhein's giddy gait.
14. To Ralph Taynton, Doris Norman's small feet.
15. To Betty Clem, Carcy's absenteeism.
16. To Freddie Ravenscroft, Anna's efficiency.
17. To whoever wins the crown next year, June's regal mein.
18. To Mary Ann Taylor, Jeanette's obstreperous manner at Physical Education.
19. To the whole school, Marorie's sincerity.
20. To William Trask, Godfrey's personality.
21. To Bob Thompson, Therese's long, dark hair.
22. To Mr. Wroniewicz, Bertha's ability to see the sunny side of life.
23. To Mrs. Mitchell, Billy Robinson's circumlocution.
24. To Betty Donaldson, Lois's way with men.
25. To the coach, Madeline's patience.

Written witnessed and signed on this day, the sixth of June, in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and forty-five.

Joy Reeve, Attorney at Law
